SQA Code of Ethics

Adherence to ethical standards is a key criterion in earning and preserving the trust placed in the research quality assurance profession and is a requirement for membership in SQA and participation in its activities.

I, as a member of the Society of Quality Assurance, shall:

- Maintain a high level of personal integrity and professional competence;
- Act always in a manner that reflects creditably upon my profession;
- Maintain an objective attitude towards evaluation of facilities, studies or product integrity regardless of any internal or external influences;
- Protect confidential information;
- Report findings accurately and honestly and make recommendations impartially;
- Avoid situations where my professional judgment may be compromised;
- Understand, promote and implement the laws, regulations, guidelines and standards applicable to the field of quality assurance and specifically to my position; and
- Uphold this Code of Ethics in the conduct of my duties and in my professional associations.

I certify that to the best of my knowledge all provided information is true. I understand that the documentation I submit in support of Active Membership may be verified for accuracy by the EMCC and that inaccurate information may result in denial of Active Membership. I have read and accept the SQA Code of Ethics.
